PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I am a New York-based vocalist, actor, and tech guy who got my start at age 4 tagging along with my parents singing at local karaoke bars. I'd like to think I've improved since then, and I have performed as part of New York City Center's revivals of Into the Woods & Lionel Bart's Oliver! sung at Carnegie Hall twice with the All-City High School Chorus, and won first place (and second the year before) for illustration at Baruch College's High School Journalism awards. Recently, I have begun to branch out into computer science, and have begun to dabble in Server hosting, linux use, and 3d printing.
